Thursday July 10th 2008

Well today was a Sell day. Sell days are often like that and we end up getting up and down action. In my earlier days of TTT I use to call them Golf days. However based on the fact that had closed near the low, it was reasonable to expect a lower Low, (maybe not as low as we wanted) and rallied from there.

Tomorrow is a SS day and we are in the middle of the range so it is harder to forecast. Especially in this bear market.

Friday July 11th, 2008

Today was a SS day and a perfect open for TTT since we knew that we had 85%+ chance of getting back above 1244.75 during the day session. We just got above just to reverse back and go hit the projected low.

Monday is a BUY day so although we already have part of the Decline in we could go lower and as a matter of fact we have a 67% chance of making a new LOW.

Monday July 14th, 2008

Today was a BUY day and as I mentioned Friday we needed a DECLINE from Friday's high. Well when we gapped up at the open today and the level was so close to Friday's high it made life easier to take that short and ride it at least to the 1231 level.

Tomorrow is a SELL day and like I said before the confusing day. Tomorrow may be different because we closed on the low today. We have a 58% chance to make a lower low, but we are really looking for a rally at some point in the day that needs to get us above 1224.75. Yes on the 24hr session we are above that level, but we need it on the day session also, and I don't know where we will open. In this bear markets longs are short lived so keep a close eye on your longs.

Tuesday July 15th, 2008

Today was a SELL day and like I said before the confusing day. Having closed on the BUY day low we had a 58% chance to make a lower low, but we were really looking for a rally at some point in the day that needed to get us above 1224.75. That's what we got.

Tomorrow will be the SS day and the end of the 3 day cycle. Therefore we have 87% chance of getting above 1224.74 at some point, in order to get a 3 day positive rally.

We also have a 56% chance of making a new low and also 56% of making a new high.

Wednesday July 16th, 2008

Today went according to plan, and even reached the 1243-45 area.

Tomorrow will be a BUY day and as such we should expect a DECLINE from today's highs that was made last. We only have a 41% chance of making a new high.

Thursday July 17th, 2008

Well today went as planned and some of you took that short near the open at 1258 close to the predicted top, then we finally did get our decline and just got below yesterday's high.

Tomorrow is a SELL day (the Confusing Day) and we have a 59% chance of making a new low. But if we open below 1238 we will need to get back above at one point in the day.

Friday July 18th, 2008

As you probably noticed in yesterday's comment, I didn't say much as it didn't look like much. Well we did end up with a rally but it was a bit weak.

For Monday the SS day we have a 57% chance of making a higher high and since we closed near the highs of the day, I would anticipate that we will make the high first.

Monday July 21st, 2008

Today went according to plan. We did make the high first and in the overnight session TTT nailed it to the tick and only off by 1 point in the day session. I thought we would retrace lower.

Tomorrow is a BUY day and we should expect a Decline from today's high. If this market has really changed from bear to bull, as some say, then the Decline may be shallower than plan. Time will tell.

Tuesday July 22nd, 2008

Well today was pretty much as plan for a Buy day. We got our low early, and only NQ got to the projected low numbers. Then the market felt that one bad Apple can't ruin the attempted rally. We even blew right through the top of my numbers.

Tomorrow we have a 49% chance of making a new high, however with today's momentum these odds may get broken.

Again like I usually say watch your self on the sell day as we could get a continued rally or it could be just a normal sell day.

Wednesday July 23rd, 2008

Today TTT nailed the High on all except the NASDAQ. Then it did a shallow retracement maybe confirming the bears are taking a brake.

Tomorrow is SS day and we will have a 57% chance of making a higher high and 53% of making a lower low. Having closed in the middle of the range, it will all depend if we make the high 1st or last. If first then we will do part of the Decline needed for the Buy day. If last then the Decline will all take place on the B day.

Thursday July 24th, 2008

Today was a real SS day so we should have been looking for any excuse to go short.

Tomorrow is Buy day. We closed on the lows and the high was made first today, therefore we have a 67% chance of making a lower low and we also have a 62% chance of making the low first.

Friday July 25th, 2008

Well today was a real go nowhere day. I don't know if it is because it was Friday, but it did the same thing last Friday.

For Monday I would expect some rally. Since we didn't get much of one today.

Monday July 28th, 2008

On Friday I said I was expecting some sort of rally. We had a 50% chance of making a higher high, I thought we would, based on the normal rally size. Oh well we just got close to Friday's high and reversed. Based on Taylor, that would have been his sell point. We also had a 56% chance of making a lower low and we did and even reached the projected low on ES and ER.

Tomorrow is SS Day. However based on the close today, we have an 88% chance for the 24hr session, and 85% chance for the day session of getting at least above 1251.25. We also have a 54% chance of making a lower low. On ER2 the odds of getting above 704.1 are even better at 90%.

Tuesday July 29th, 2008

Today went as expected. As I mentioned last night we needed to get above 1251.25 and we did. Then all of them hit the high forecasted
 What a day for TTT.

Tomorrow is Buy day. We should get a Decline from Today's highs and we have a 67% chance of making the low Last.

Wednesday July 30th, 2008

Some of you were confused today by the meaning of the 100% chance of getting to 1263.25. This number is based on the 24H session and for that session we did get to 1259.75. I have now added and modified the column next to the 24H to represent the Day session percentages instead of total average. So today we had 97-98% chance to get to 1263.25 during the day session but it failed on ES, but by not much.

Tomorrow is a Sell day (confusing Day, golf Day). Since we closed on the highs today we have much better chance then 49% to make a higher high. However ES has nearly completed it average rally.

Thursday July 31st, 2008

Today was a text book Taylor Sell day. We tried to get above the Buy day high and failed on the day session then got the sell off and retested the low of the day. And tried to test the high again. That is why I call it the confusing day.

Tomorrow is SS day. Due to the fact that we have a 85-88% chance of a positive 3 day rally and we are far from the goals, I believe we have a better chance of having a rally then a selloff tomorrow. However the last 2 Fridays were boring, but maybe NFP will change the game.

Friday August 1st, 2008

Today was again a summer Friday. We ended up with a very modest 3 day rally, and the sell off was limited to the projected goals. ER is a bit more stubborn and closed near the highs of day.

Monday will be a BUY day. For a Buy day a decline from the SS day high is needed. If we open at these levels the condition has been met, however the average Decline should take us lower. The Decline on ER could be more accentuated having closed on the highs.

Monday August 4th, 2008

Today was as predicted on Friday and most Futures and Indexes reach the projected lows.

Tomorrow is the Sell day. That is normally the confusing day, but tomorrow may be a bit different as we closed on the lows today and therefore we should anticipate some kind of rally. We also have a 56% chance of making a lower low.

Tuesday August 5th, 2008

Today went as planned in the comments last night.

Tomorrow is SS day, on ES and ER2 we have a 56% chance to make a higher high and a 52% of making the high 1st.

Let's keep in mind that we had a big rally today, so the market should take a breather.

Wednesday August 6th, 2008

Well we did make a higher high and it reached the projected numbers. And as I said last night we did take a breather.

Tomorrow is a BUY day. On BUY day we are to expect a Decline from today's highs. We have a 67% chance of making a lower low and we have a 63% of making the low Last.

Thursday August 7th, 2008

We did get our Decline today. It took 2 tries to get there, 1st support was at the yesterday's low and then we went to hit the TTT numbers.

Tomorrow is a SELL day and since we closed on the lows today, we should expect a rally. However we have 55% of making a lower low.

If we were to gap lower and open the day session below 1263.50, we will have a 95% chance of getting back above that level at some point in the day.

Friday August 8th, 2008

May I just say "What a day for TTT". The markets did just as predicted and rallied to the 1st predicted high, took a break, and then went to the maximum high predicted.

Monday will be SellShort day. Having closed on the highs we have a 57% chance of making a higher high, before starting our Decline.

Wednesday August 13th, 2008

Today was a Sell day and I would explain that the reason for the drop is that we didnt get enough of it on the Buy day. So we dropped and nailed the TTT lows just to come back up and that is because we need to get above the Buy day low by tomorrow and although we are above now we need it during te day session also Tomorrow will be a SS day. We have a 85% + chance of getting above the Buy day low. Although we are in a negative mood at the moment we normaly get a positive 3 Day rally, so look for that as a possible goal tomorrow.

Thursday August 14th, 2008

ES was kind of sluggish today but ER hit the lows and the took out the high. ES gust missed the high but not by much. That just made a pretty good 3 day rally.

Tomorrow is the BUY day. As we know we need a decline for the Buy day. So having closed near the highs of the day, most of the Decline should happen tomorrow.

Friday August 15th, 2008

Sorry being on vacation I don't realize that it was Boring dead Summer Friday. The market didn't go nowhere fast.

For Monday we are suppose to get a rally, however we are in the middle of the road , so be careful.

Monday August 18th, 2008

Well as I said on Friday today was a Sell day and we did get a little rally before hours and Friday's high capped the day session, only so to sell off and reach the projected lows.

My day count is based on a positive 3 day rally. Tomorrow Taylor would call it SS day, and I could also call it the 3rd day of my Positive 3 day rally. We therefore need to get above 1290.50 to make this a 3 day positive rally and we have an 87% chance of doing that before the close of business tomorrow. We also have a 67% chance of making a lower low.

Tuesday August 19th, 2008

Oh well we had a 87% chance of getting above 1290 but it failed, we therefore had a failed 3 day rally. In the past year this has not happened very often even in this bear market, but it does confirm the bearish trend in the market.

Tomorrow is BUY day. Normally on a BUY day we need a decline from the SS day high. Having closed on the lows we should expect a test of today's low and we have a 59% chance of making the Low First.

Wednesday August 20th, 2008

Today the markets were confused with 2 of them making low 1st and 2 last.

Tomorrow is Sell day, often the confusing day. Based on usual rally averages we should go higher but the odds of making a lower low is also in the balance

Thursday August 21st, 2008

Today was a Sell day, the confusing day, so we tested the lows from yesterday and after a few test of the highs we finally manage to get above the highs

Tomorrow is SS day. Having closed close to the highs, we will have a 57% chance of making a higher high. However it's summer Friday doldrums, so I would expect the test first.

Friday August 22nd, 2008

Friday ended up making a better 3 day rally then expected, probably because of the last 3 day failed rally

Monday is a BUY day and therefore we should expect a Decline first before we can buy.

Monday August 25th, 2008

As mentioned on the last report we were to expect a decline today. The markets did just that and the decline reached the projected numbers.

Tomorrow is a SELL day, since we closed on the lows today we should expect a rally. We also have a 56% chance of making a lower low, before we start the rally.

Wednesday August 27th, 2008

Today was a SS day. You can notice that the numbers in last night's report offered good resistance today. First we bounced off yesterday's high at the 1275 area and finally broke through on the second attempt. We then found more formidable resistance right at the numbers at 1283.50 to 1285 area

Tomorrow will be a Buy day. On a Buy day we should expect a decline from the SS day highs. Having closed close to the highs and having only a 41% chance of making a higher high, I would expect that the decline will start at the open and the low will be made last. We also have a 68% chance of making a lower low and would anticipate the low to come in at 1254-57 area.

Thursday August 28th, 2008

Well today did not go according to plan. We did reach the projected highs on ES and ER2/AB. We failed to get a decline on ES day session only, and the others managed to get at least a small one.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. We should normally expect a rally from today's lows but most of it has been done today. Sell day is often a confusing day and tomorrow being last summer Friday just before a long weekend and it is month end also, it could be easily a very confusing day.

Friday August 29th, 2008

Today was a Sell day, and as such when we tested the highs early and failed to make new high, then it was time to short.

Tuesday will be a SS day. I would be looking for a rally since we do not have much of a 3 day rally.

Tuesday September 2nd, 2008

Today was a perfect SS Day. We made new Highs and at just about the projected highs. We then reversed and nailed the projected lows.

Tomorrow is a BUY day. Having closed on the lows and being at the average decline numbers I would not expect much more of a decline. However we do have a 67% chance of making a lower low on ES.

Wednesday September 3rd, 2008

Today was a Buy day. As we saw Yesterday's low offered some support but not for long. We had a 67% chance of making a lower low and we did on all except ER2/AB. Russell is holding better then the others lately.

Tomorrow will be a SELL day, often a confusing day. We should expect a rally from today's low. We also have a 56% chance of making a lower low. Should we gap down below today's low at the open, we will have a 95% chance of getting above that low at some point in the day.

Thursday September 4th, 2008

Today was Sell day. As mentioned last night we did get above 1265.25 after the gap open. However the failure to start closing the gap in soon after the open made it a day to short because TVGR was in effect. We did get brief support at the 1252 numbers from the report just to be broken and drop further. For those of you that are not familiar with TVGR check our forum for explanations.

Tomorrow is SS day. Using my positive 3 day cycle theory, we have an 86 to 88% chance of getting above the Buy day low at some point before the close on Friday. Based on these odds I will be looking for any confirmation indicator or system signal to go long till we reach that level.

Friday September 5th, 2008

Today was a SS day and we didn't get the full rally expected but having started from much lower, the market did give it the old college try.

Monday will be a Buy day. We should therefore expect a decline from today's high. The average decline would take us back to today's low. We will have a 67% chance of making a lower low and a 66% chance of making that low last.

Monday September 8th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and we did get a decline but not from the normal SS day high. Having had a failed positive 3 day rally on Friday this was one way the market could compensate for it. The Gap was never filled on all but NQ and prevented us from getting the proper decline.

Tomorrow will be the Sell day, the confusing day. Having rallied from the lows of the day we made most of the average Rally.

I would expect a continuation rally and maybe a test of today's highs.

Tuesday September 9th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. We tested Yesterday's highs during the overnight session , and failed to take it out. We also had a 57% chance of making a lower low. This was achieved and it took 3 tests to finally get through and ES and ER2/AB made it to the TTT projected lows.

Tomorrow is SS day. Based on positive 3 day rally we have an 84-86% chance of getting above 1246.75 at some point before the close tomorrow. Being in a Bear market and so close to the July lows, let's see if we succeed in getting a positive rally.

Wednesday September 10th, 2008

Adding Sept 1st back in made today a Buy day. We had made most of the decline yesterday and we had a small violation this morning. We then rallied and made most of what we should expect out of average rally.

Tomorrow is Sell day. Since most of the rally is in, we should expect a test of the highs with a 51% chance of making a higher high. We also have a 56% chance of making a lower low.

Thursday September 11th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. Having dropped overnight and making a Lower Low at close to the numbers, we were to anticipate a rally from there and we did test the previous high but it waited to the last moment to finally push through and achieve the projected Highs.

Tomorrow is SS day, We are above the average 3 day rally and we have a 56% chance of making a higher high. Having closed on the highs I would anticipate that to happen.

Friday September 12th, 2008

For a SS day we had a very range trading day. ES made a few attempts to go higher but it finally reached the target at the end of the day but came close twice.

Monday will be a Buy day. As such on a Buy day we normally get a decline from the SS day high. Having closed on the highs we may try an attempt higher but the odds are only 42%. We do however have a 68% chance of making a lower low and that would match with the average decline when we test today's low.

Monday September 15th, 2008

Well today was a Buy day and we were to expect a decline, and a decline we got. ES made a new 52 week low and all indexes except Russell are over 20% lower from the highs last year putting us again officially in a Bear Market.

Tomorrow is Sell day. On a Sell day we should anticipate a rally from the buy day low. We closed on the lows and we have a 57% chance of making a lower low. If we open with a gap down, we will have a 96% chance of getting back above today's low of 1195.50.

Tuesday September 16th, 2008

Today was a good day for TTT. As mentioned in last night's report if we were to have a gap open then we had a 96% chance of closing that gap. We did and even reached the projected highs.

Tomorrow is SS day, after a day like today I would expect more of a range day. Again if we gap down at the open we will have a 88% chance of getting above 1195.50 before the close

Wednesday September 17th, 2008

Today was a SS day, and we surely got that. On ES 24 hour session we hit the top and the bottom projections. ES day session opened with a gap down and as mentioned last night we had to get back above 1195.50 and we did.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. We therefore start a new cycle and on a Buy day we should expect a decline from the SS day high. That part has been accomplished and we are way below the average decline. We also have a 69% chance of making a lower low.

Thursday September 18th, 2008

Today was a Buy Day. We needed a decline and we did. We did have a 69% chance of making a lower low and we did that too. As you can see lately we are getting more then double the average daily spread (range) then usual. With that we are hitting and surpassing both the projected highs and lows.

Tomorrow is Sell Day, I often refer to it as the confusing day and with tomorrow being quadruple witching Friday, it may just be that. Also we have rebounded from today's low by 80 points versus the average 30 points. I would therefore expect an other volatile day with wide swings in both directions.

Friday September 19th, 2008

Last night I said I was expecting wide swings but this is getting on the ridiculous side, up 90 points down 50 up 30 down 30. That is a of the reasons I call the Sell day a confusing day.

Monday is a SS day. Now with all the crazy moves we had it is very difficult to make a decent prediction with TTT as all the numbers in this cycle are not normal. The levels can be used as support and resistance if we get there. Over the weekend I will work with Laurent and get an other special report on the current shorter term wave count and that may give us a better sense of direction for Monday's trading.

Monday September 22nd, 2008

Today was a SS day and we made a nice retracement off the last 2 day's rally.

Tomorrow is the Buy day and normally on a Buy day we are to expect a Decline from the high on the SS day. At this point we are already lower then the average Decline. I would expect a test of today's low and since we have a 69% chance of making a lower low, we may try to get to the projected low, which happens to be very close to the 50% retracement of the 2 day rally from the last major low.

Tuesday September 23rd, 2008

Today was a Buy day. On Buy days we are to expect a decline from the SS day high and we did. Yes we went further then the normal decline but lately we are having wider swings then usual. We also knew that ES had a 69% chance of making a lower low. We achieved the projected low on all four indexes futures

Tomorrow is Sell day. This one may not be as confusing. On Sell days we should expect a rally from the Buy day low and having closed on the lows that should take the confusion out. However we do have a 56% chance of making a lower low.

Wednesday September 24th, 2008

Today was a Sell day and although I thought it would be not so confusing, but it held to its name and we had wide swings up and down. All except NQ made lower lows and TF bounced right on the projected lows.

Tomorrow will be SS day. TF is below the Buy day low and therefore has a 90% chance of getting above 703.60 at some time during the next session. The others are far from the average 3 day rally, therefore we could expect some rally tomorrow.

Thursday September 25th, 2008

Today was a SS day. TF opened below the Buy day low and therefore as mentioned is last night's report we had a 90% chance of getting above 703.60 at some time during the session and that was achieved.

The others were far from the average 3 day rally, therefore the expect rally was to be anticipated.

Tomorrow will be a Buy day. Normally on Buy days we should get a decline from the SS day highs. We also have a 62 to 70% chance of making a lower low.

Friday September 26th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and for a change we got our opportunity to Buy right at the open when all of the futures made their lows and also right in the TTT projected range.

Monday will be a Sell day. We closed at the highs for the session and all of them and within 1 point of the average rally that is to be expected on a Sell day. I would therefore expect a test higher, unless the weekend brings weird news. We also have a 57-60% chance of making a lower low. Sounds like my confusing day again.

Monday September 29th, 2008

Well today was a Sell day and did they ever sell. On the conference call on Saturday I answered someone as to what I saw in the TTT numbers for Monday, and I said that based only on TTT the Bailout package would not pass since most of rally was done on Friday. You also notice that we had a projected low on ES of 1172 and that offered resistance for a while.

Tomorrow is SS day and as such we have very high odds of getting back above the Buy day low. That rally will need to be as drastic as the decline we had today or we will have a failed positive 3 day rally. Again only based on TTT, I would say they will pass the Bailout bill tomorrow.

I should not be predicting government actions based on TTT but could not resist. :)

Tuesday September 30th, 2008

Today was the SS day and like I mentioned in my comments last night we needed to get back above the Buy day low. TF and YM made it, TF and NQ gave it a college try and came close

Tomorrow is the Buy day and having closed on the highs we should expect a decline from here.

Wednesday October 1st, 2008

Well today was a perfect Buy day as we got the exact expected decline on all instruments. It was a good buy as all were also at good retracement levels.

Tomorrow is Sell day. We are in the middle of the rally and we do have 58% odds of making a lower low and still have room to go up. I wonder why I call it the confusing day. Big news to come out so will it be buy the rumor sell the fact or let's get back in bull mode. Time will tell.

Thursday October 2nd, 2008

Today was Sell day and as I mentioned in yesterday's report, we had a 58% chance of making a lower low and we did. When we reached the predicted lows they acted a support for a while and when taken out they acted as resistance.

Tomorrow is a SS day. At this point we are below the Buy day low and we therefore have a 86 to 91% chance of at least getting above these lows before the end of trading tomorrow.

Friday October 3rd, 2008

As I mentioned last night in the report we were below the Buy day low and we had very good odds of getting back above the Buy day low. Except for TF and Russell all the others made it, just to reverse and dropped to the projected lows.

Monday is a Buy day and we normally should get a decline from the SS day high. Well at this point that has been accomplished however having closed near the lows and having good odds of making a lower low, we may go a bit lower before the rally begins.

Monday October 6th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and as I said Friday we had good odds of making a lower low. This move was a bit exaggerated. :)

Tomorrow is the Sell day and normally we should get a rally from the Buy day low. The normal rally has been more then accomplished but with these crazy moves, who knows. We also have 57-62% chance of making a lower low.

Tuesday October 7th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. As i mentioned yesterday we had good odds of making a lower low and we did after testing yesterday's high and failed to take them out.

Tomorrow is SS day. One thing to look for will be if we gap down at the open and should we do that we will have over 86% chance of getting above the Buy day low.

Once that is accomplished the market should continue to rally, but these days the markets are so bearish that it is hard to stay long.

Wednesday October 8th, 2008

Today was a SS Day. As mentioned last night, the thing to look for was if we gaped down at the open and we did, we knew we had over 86% chance of getting above the Buy day low. Once that was accomplished the market should have continued to rally and it did and came close to the projected highs, but these days the markets are so bearish that it is hard to stay long.

Tomorrow is the Buy day. The normal Decline that we should get has already been surpassed and we have 60-70% chance of making a lower low.

Thursday October 9th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and we had a 60-70% chance of making a lower low and that we did.

Tomorrow will be Sell day, we should normally get a rally from the Buy day low. We have a 60% chance of making a lower low and having closed on the lows today increases the chance of that happening. Should we gap down and open lower than today's low we will have a 96% chance of making it atleast back above these lows.

Friday October 10th, 2008

Today was a Sell day and as mentioned in last night's report we had a 60% chance of making a lower low and if we were to gap down at the open we had 96% chance of getting back above the Buy day low. Well we did all that and even got above the projected numbers for the day before pulling back a bit.

Monday will be SS day. At this point ES and YM are below the Buy day and have an 88% chance of getting back above at some point on Monday and may continue rallying to the projected numbers for a 3 day rally.

Monday October 13th, 2008

Today was SS day and as I mentioned on Friday, due to the fact that we needed a positive 3 day rally, we ended up with a rally today and as with all the moves lately it was exaggerated but now for the way up.

Tomorrow is Buy day and as such we normally should get a decline from today's high. We technically have a 37% chance of making a higher high and a 67% chance of making the low last.

Tuesday October 14th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and on Buy days we need a decline from the SS day high. You will notice that even if we made a higher high we still managed to decline to at least the projected numbers.

Tomorrow will be Sell day and on Sell day we should get a rally from the Buy day lows. Except for NQ all the others rallied already to the average rally levels. In these markets of wide fluctuations, projected numbers have been taken out very often. A point to note is that we have a 60% chance of making a lower low. That is why I often call the Sell day as the confusing day.

Wednesday October 15th, 2008

Today was a Sell day and we had a 60% chance of making a lower low. On the way down we can notice that the projected lows did offer some support for a while.

Tomorrow is SS day. We have 56% chance of making a lower low however we have an 88% chance of getting back above the Buy day lows. Based on average rallies that would seem impossible but with the exaggerated moves of late we never know.

Thursday October 16th, 2008

Today was a SS day. As predicted we did make a lower low however only TF did not get a failed positive 3 day rally.

Tomorrow is Buy day and therefore we should expect a Decline from the SS day highs. We only have a 37% chance of making a higher high but in view of the late start of the late comeback of the markets today and having closed on the highs, and also the fact that we had a failed rally on most, I would expect higher highs before the decline. We will know more at the open.

Friday October 17th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and the lows came in at the projected area at the open. We then manage a full rally and even exceeded the projected tops. You will notice that for instance ES which had a failed 3 day rally yesterday of 24 points exceeded the projected high by 23 points. As in most failed 3 day rally we do tend to recoup the difference in the next few days.

Monday will be Sell day. At this point ES and NQ closed near the normal rally projected high. We have less than 50% chance of making a higher high and a 60% chance of making a lower low. We are pretty much in the middle of the road here so it may end up being the usual confusing day.

Monday October 20th, 2008

Today was a Sell day and we had a good rally and closed within shooting distance of the maximum projected highs.

Tomorrow is SS day. Having closed on the highs today I would expect a test of these highs and we have a 54% chance of making a higher high. For tomorrow I would have to agree with Taylor that no long should be taken.

Tuesday October 21st, 2008

Today was a nearly a text book SS day. The sell off started from the get go and we ended the day on the lows.

Tomorrow is the Buy day. The normally expected average Decline has already been achieved on the SS day. We do have a 62-68% chance of making a lower low tomorrow.

Wednesday October 22nd, 2008

Today was a Buy day. On buy days we expect a decline from the SS Day high. As we know, as of late the moves are exaggerated and today was no different.

Tomorrow will be a Sell day and we should expect a rally. The only problem at the moment is the bear market. We rallied from the lows today during the last 30 minutes and have nearly achieve the average rally high. Now the issue is do we continue the rally and exaggerate the move or are we done. The only information that we have that can help is that we have nearly 60% chance of making a lower low. I would therefore suggest protect your longs.

Thursday October 23rd, 2008

Today was a Sell Day. Has mentioned last night we had a 60% chance of making a lower low and the markets did make new low just to reversed when ES reach the projected lows.

Tomorrow will be SS day. At the moment only TF is below the Buy day low. TF has 90% chances of getting above that low even during the day session. The others are all above and even close to their average 3 day rally levels.

Friday October 24th, 2008

Today was a SS day. As such we knew this morning at the open that we had high odds of atleast getting back above the Buy day low. All made it with the exception of the Russell.

Monday will be a Buy day. On Buy days we expect a Decline from the SS day high and part of that has been done already. It is also worth noting that we have 60-69% chance of making a lower low.

Tuesday October 28th, 2008

Today was a Sell Day. We rallied overnight and as mentioned in last night report we came down to test the lows before the real rally began. Only TF came close to make a new low but stopped right at Monday's low.

Tomorrow will be SS day and having closed on the highs, today's momentum may help the 53% odds of making a higher high.

Wednesday October 29th, 2008

Today was SS day. We had a 53% chance of getting a higher high today but our odds were a bit better having closed on the highs yesterday. You will noticed that the 952 ES projected high held for a good part of the day and got taken out only after the FOMC news just to finally reverse down to close near the lows of the day. We also had 53% odds of making the High Last and we did.

Tomorrow is Buy day. We normally should expect a decline on Buy days. We did a good part of that decline just before the close, however we have a 69% chance of making a Lower Low tomorrow and a 65% chance of making that low Last.

Thursday October 30th, 2008

Today was a Buy day. We knew that most of the decline was done on the SS day and although we had good odds of making a lower low today, the overnight session created a big gap that never got filled except for ES. ES and NQ reversed the decline at or about the projected average decline lows.

Tomorrow is Sell day. All of them closed at the average Rally projected highs. We should therefore be looking to test today's high and look for a failure of this test before considering shorts.

Friday October 31st, 2008

Today was a Sell day. As mentioned last night we tested the previous highs and the rally continued and in the case of ES reversed right on the numbers in the last hour.

Monday will be SS Day. We have a 54% chance of making higher highs. The trend seems to have changed to bullish for now anyway. Is there an other shoe to drop? I guess we will know Tuesday.

Monday November 3rd, 2008

Today was a SS day. Only TF made a higher high and very close to the projected numbers. Otherwise it was a pretty slow day.

Tomorrow will be a Buy day. As such we should expect a Decline from the SS day high. Having closed close to the highs we should expect a decline and we also have high odds of making a lower low.

Tuesday November 4th, 2008

Today was a Buy Day and as such we were to expect a Decline. Well it ended up a mixed bag. The 24 hour session made it as usual, but the Day session only TF and NQ made a decline. ES and YM failed to get one and TVGR took effect for the rest of the day. This could possibly mean that the overall market trend is finally turned Bullish as this only had 4% chance of happening.

Tomorrow is Sell Day. Markets closed on the highs and for most the average Rally is already achieved. There is less than 50% chance of making a Higher High, however there could be residual momentum in the markets to get there. Also if the market sentiment has turned Bullish then we may be getting back to normal and start getting more Penetrations and less Violations.

Wednesday November 5th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. Looking at ES the overnight session hit the Day hi projection and the Day session hit the 24h hi projection. The 24h Low projection was the level where the market stop it's drop. We did have better odds of making a lower low today and this gave the opportunity for the market to close yesterday's gap, which was the only open gap since the major lows were put in place and leaving the door open for further advance.

Tomorrow is SS day. Having closed below the Buy day low, the odds of having a Positive 3 Day Rally are very high and we should get back above these lows before the close tomorrow. This is one of the cases I mentioned in the Guide that Taylor would not long on a SS day but with these high odds in our favor, I will be looking for signals to long tomorrow.

Tuesday November 11th, 2008

As mentioned in last night's report, if we were to open with a gap down below the Buy day low we had 86+% chance of getting back to these levels. We did gap down and continued down till TF and NQ stopped at the projected lows and then all four rallied back to the Buy day lows.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. Part of the required Decline has taken place and could continue as we have a 60-66% chance of making lower lows.

Thursday November 13th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. As mentioned last night we had a 60% chance of making lower lows before the rally would begin. That was some rally from below projected lows to atleast the 1st target.

Tomorrow is SS day. We have a little better than 50% chance of making a higher high. We are also above the average 3 Day rally, so a pullback could be expected.

Monday November 17th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and we had a good odds of making a lower low and the low to be made 1st. We then attempted a rally that stopped and reversed to have close near the lows again.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. On a Sell day we should get a rally, however having closed on the lows and with a 60% chance of making a lower low, we will probably get the rally last. If we gap down and open lower than today's lows we will have 96% chance of getting at least above these lows.

Today was a Sell day. It took a while for the lows to come in and they did at or close to the projected lows. After which the rally started.

Tomorrow is SS day. Having closed on the highs of the day I would expect a higher high to be made. Also the average 3 Day rally could take us higher.

Today was a SS day. The rally continued and TVGR stayed in effect all day.

Tomorrow will be a Buy Day. We should expect a decline on Buy days. We do have over 60% chance of making a lower low and good odds of making the low last.

Wednesday November 26th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. Although I didn't expect that we had a normal Sell day as we had a 60% chance of making lower lows as we tested the Buy day lows overnight. Failing to violate the lows to much we then reversed and rallied all day and reached the projected highs by the close.

Tomorrow is a SS day. It will be an abbreviated day and very thinly traded. Based on that it is hard for me to make any realistic personal projections.

For all our American friends, have a nice Thanksgiving holiday.

There will still be a report tomorrow since there is some trading happening.

Today was a SS day but it was so quiet there is not much to say.

Tomorrow will be a Buy day. We should get a Decline on Buy days and having closed on the highs today we should get the decline tomorrow. The markets should be thin again.

Friday November 28th, 2008

Today was a Buy day. Markets were thin and a small Decline was produced, after which a rally started.

Monday will be a Sell day. As mentioned before the Sell day is sometime confusing. The reason this time is that the rally is shallow so far, following a small decline. We could expect the rally to continue however there is a 60% chance of making a lower low.

Monday December 1st, 2008

Today was a Sell day. Well the odds of making lower lows did come true. Only TF had a rally for the day session, we had very high odds of getting back above the Buy day low and the other 3 failed to rally.

Tomorrow is SS day. As such we closed way below the Buy day low and we have 86% chance of getting back above these lows at some point tomorrow.

Tuesday December 2nd, 2008

Today was a SS day. All four markets had a failed Positive 3 Day Rally today. ES and TF had TVGR in effect all day. All closed on the highs as per the rule but the recovery to the Buy day low was too big to accomplish. However it shows again that it is ok to be long on a SS day when these circumstances occur.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. we should expect a Decline on Buy days. We have small odds of making higher highs and over 60% chances of making lower lows. We also have over 60% odds of making the lows last.

Thursday December 4th, 2008

As mentioned in last night's report, today was a Sell day. We did make new highs and sold off from there. We came close of making lower lows.

Tomorrow is SS day. Tomorrow's action will depend on what will happens overnight. If we gap down below the Buy day low at the open tomorrow, we will have a 86% chance of getting above these lows. If not we may just continue the end of day rally to complete the 3 day rally.

Friday December 5th, 2008

Today was a SS day. After testing the overnight lows and reaching the projected lows, all 4 markets rallied and reached the projected 3 day rally highs.

Monday is a Buy day. We should expect a Decline on Buy days and all odds point that way.

Tuesday December 9th, 2008

Today was a Sell day. TF and NQ made higher highs and TF reversed right at the projected high, and all of them retraced most of the day.

Tomorrow is SS day. Since we made an inside day bar today, indicating indecision, and TTT being in the middle of the rally, we could go either way. My feeling is we will continue the rally, however only time will tell.

Thursday December 11th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and it went according to plan as we tested yesterday's highs and failed to take them out, just to reverse and make new lows and we knew we had 60% chance of that happening. All but TF nailed the projected TTT lows.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. We have a 60% chance of making lower lows and this has been accomplished already after hours. Should we open lower then the Buy day low we will have very high odds of getting back above these lows as we should normally get a rally on Sell days.

Today was a SS day. Friday's momentum helped in the overnight session however when we saw the failure on the test of these highs at the open SS day took over the bias.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day, and by the way FOMC day. We do have over 60% chance of making lower lows which would make us achieve the projected lows.

Tuesday December 16th, 2008

Today was a Buy day. Again today we had a shallow Decline. We did have 60% of the low made first, We gapped up, TVGR took effect and we reached the projected highs.

Tomorrow is Sell day. We already achieved the average rally, We have a 50/50 chance of making a higher high, however we do have 60% chance of making a lower low.

Thursday December 18th, 2008

Today was SS day. Only TF managed to make a new high but not by much. Since the others failed to follow then the markets went and tested the lows with ES reaching the precise projected lows.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. Due to the end of day rally today only a partial average decline is in place. We do however have a 60% chance of making lower lows tomorrow. Also being quadruple witching Friday high volatility and whipsaw action could be expected.

Friday December 19th, 2008

Today was a Buy Day. Markets were mixed as TF and NQ managed to make higher Highs and YM made a Lower Low. ES and YM achieved their projected average Decline.

Monday will be a Sell day. Having closed near the lows and having a 60% chance of making Lower lows, I would anticipated a test of these lows. However if we were to open below today's lows, we will have a 95% chance of getting back above these lows before the close on Monday.

Monday December 22nd, 2008

Today was a Sell day. The 60% odds did favor making lower lows and we did. Markets reversed when we got close to the Recap MA numbers

Tomorrow is SS day. At this point some of the indexes still have to get back above the Buy day lows based on the 85% odds.

Tuesday December 23rd, 2008

Today was a SS day. As mentioned in last night's report we had 85% odds of getting back above the Buy day lows. All the Futures except NQ made it however the Indexes didn't.

Tomorrow will be a shortened Buy day. We have done a good part of the decline however we do have over 60% chance of making lower lows.

Today was a SS day. Markets were down all day until they reached the TTT projected lows and then reversed.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. We should expect a Decline from today's highs however with this thin market it may be shallower then planned.

Tuesday December 30th, 2008

Today was a Buy day and as mentioned in last night's report the shallower Decline did materialized and we then rallied to the projected highs.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. Being year end and with all the window dressing that usually happens on the 31st, Sell day may live up to it's nickname "The Confusing Day."

Wednesday December 31st, 2008

Today was a Sell day and it did achieve higher highs just to loose all the gains in the last 15 minutes. That was the confusing part I was saying last night.

Friday will be SS day. It is hard to say if we started the SS day in the last minutes, so we will have to wait and see how the day get started.

Wednesday January 7th, 2009

Today was a SS day. Markets opened with a big gap down today, even below the Buy day Low. Markets then moved above these lows but ran out of steam and TVGR took effect, which took us to the projected lows for the 1st bounce that failed to get higher than the Buy day low just to drop back to the Recap MA projected lows.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. The average decline has been accomplished, however having closed near the lows, having a 60% chance of making lower lows and with a 60% chance of making the low 1st, I would expect a test of these lows before any rally starts.

Friday January 9th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. The employment report did what was expected of it made higher highs first just to reverse and make new lows. Tf even reached the projected target.

Monday will be a SS day. Having closed on the lows, we should retest these lows. However we closed below the Buy day lows, so per the Positive 3 day Rally odds we should get back above these lows at some point on Monday.

Tuesday January 13th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Although we didn't reach the projected goals, Markets and good odds of making lower lows and they did.

Tomorrow is Sell day. The expected rally is shallow so far and we do have close to a 60% chance to make lower lows. The confusion of the Sell day should be felt tomorrow.

Wednesday January 14th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. ES and YM day session were the only 2 that failed to get a rally above the Buy day low today. As mentioned last night we had 60% chance of making a lower low today. All markets stopped at the projected lows of either the Recap or Recap MA. However only a weak rally ensued.

Tomorrow is SS day. We are below the Buy day lows, and in the last 12 months we never had 2 cycles in a row with failed the Positive 3 day rally except for ES last January but the 1st failure was just 1/2 a point. Therefore based on that and the 85% odds, markets should get back to these Buy day Lows.

Thursday January 15th, 2009

Today was SS day. Not all markets ended up with a Positive 3 day Rally. After reaching projected lows of the recap or recap MA, the markets rallied and tried hard to make it back to the Buy Day lows. Only ES and YM failed.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. On Buy days we should expect a Decline. Since we closed near the highs of the day, We may test these highs 1st before getting the Decline

Wednesday January 21st, 2009

Today was a Buy day. We started by testing yesterday's lows and failed to take them out. The Buy day low was made first and the rally started.

Tomorrow is a Sell day and we already accomplished most of the average rally. Closing on the highs we could extend this rally before we get a pullback.

Thursday January 22nd, 2009

Today was a Sell Day. We made higher highs overnight that reached the projected recap MA levels. Markets then tested the lows and failed, then tried to test highs and didnt succeed at that either. That is what I often mean by the Sell day being a confusing day.

Tomorrow is SS day. We closed in the middle of the range so we could go either way.

Friday January 23rd, 2009

Today was a SS day. I said last night we could go either way, well we went both ways. The Buy day lows were tested over night and at the open and failed to go lower. Therefore contrary to Taylor' rules of no long on SS day, longs could have been considered due to the average 3 day rally which we nearly reached.

Monday is Buy day. We should expect a Decline and have good odds of making a lower low

Monday January 26th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. The big Decline occurred in the Globex session followed by a rally that created a gap at the open. The markets continued that rally to reach within a few points of the projected highs. TVGR took effect and although the markets tried to close the gap, they failed. Being picky here as ES missed to close by 1 tick.

Tomorrow is Sell day, we do have good odds of making a lower low and we are not too far from the day session lows. However we haven't reached the average rally yet.

Also the Recap MA page do give better odds of making higher highs and we can notice that the Recap page odds of making lower lows has been diminishing as of late.

Did I mention it is the confusing day. LOL

Tuesday January 27th, 2009

Today was the confusing Sell day. Every one made the projected average rally and tried to make new highs and failed. However they refused to go lower also.

Tomorrow is SS day. Taylor would not be looking to long on SS day and would wait for a test of the Sell day highs to short. The FOMC meeting may be the catalyst that may take us out of this tight range we have been trading in.

Wednesday January 28th, 2009

Today was a SS day. This was a huge gap up and TVGR took effect. So that made it a bit more difficult to trade as Taylor says don't long and TVGR says don't short.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. We should expect a Decline on Buy days. The markets do have some momentum at the moment and having closed near the highs, a test of these highs would be normal.

Thursday January 29th, 2009

Today was a perfect Buy day. Since we didn't get our Decline yesterday we did it today. TVGR took effect and carried the markets down to the projected lows.

Tomorrow is Sell day. We should expect a rally on Sell days. We do have good odds of making a lower low and having closed near the lows of the day, I would anticipate that to happen before the rally starts. If we get a gap down at the open we will have over 95% chance of getting at least back up to today's lows.

Friday January 30th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. The expected rally ended up being shallower than expected, however since we had good odds of making a lower low, the markets did that and reached the projected lows.

Monday will be a SS day. Having closed below the Buy day low, we have very high odds of at least getting back above these low at some point on Monday.

Tuesday February 3rd, 2009

Today was a Buy day and as mentioned last night the Decline was shallow as we tried to get back the missing ground of yesterday. NQ and TF did however ES and YM only came close.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. Based on the average rally the markets should go higher and both the projected Rally and average Penetration are about the same level.

Thursday February 5th, 2009

Today was a SS day. Yesterday we had a good sell off and the momentum continued today. The markets gapped down tried to rally just to reverse and go test the Buy day lows. We normally should not long on SS day, with just a few exceptions. This trade is one that often works. We opened at 822.5 and only rallied to 825.50. The Buy day low was at 816 on 24 hour session and 818 on Day session. So at this point it did give us a Positive 3 Day Rally, however it was well below the average of 38 points.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. We should expect a decline that may go test today's low and the up trend line from the November lows. However the strong rally of today may reduce the decline. Only time will tell.

Friday February 6th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. The concerns of last night ended up materializing and only a small Decline took place. TVGR took effect and the markets rallied all day. I don't like picking tops on TVGR days but we had numerous fibs at 868.50-869 and if we add the average range of 33 points expected for today, 869 ended up being the top for today.

Monday will be a Sell day. The Bullish momentum is still in place. If we open at the same level we closed at most of the average rally is already done, so a test of today's highs and making higher high is a good possibility.

Monday February 9th , 2009

Today was a Sell day. We did make new highs at the projected average rally on either the recap or recap MA page for all indexes. The markets then did the usual confusing day pattern of up and down.

Tomorrow is SS day, Higher highs are possible in order to reach the average positive 3 day rally.

Tuesday February 10th, 2009

Today was a SS day, test of the highs failed and a perfect SS day followed.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. Most markets closed at the average Decline levels. However we do have a better than 50% chance of making lower lows.

Wednesday February 11th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Markets had to digest yesterday's drop and traded in a range. We did test yesterday's lows and that held on ES. The Trend line from the November lows also held Tomorrow is Sell day. So far the rally is below average, however it is the confusing day and until that Stimulus Package is voted on, we may continue trading in a range.

Thursday February 12th , 2009

Today was a Sell Day. Was it confusing enough? We gapped down at the open below the Buy day low. Markets reversed and got back above these lows. When YM got above the low all markets reversed down. Coincidentally when ES reached a new DP low, News came out and markets rallied like there was no tomorrow.

Tomorrow is SS day. Momentum of this move should take us higher.

Friday February 13th, 2009

Today was a SS day. Today we had a gap down open and the gap got filled, however we failed to get much higher than the previous day's high, therefore triggering the SS day at that point.

Monday will be a Buy day and a shortened session. Having closed on the lows today and below the November low trend line, it would be reasonable to expect lower lows

Tuesday February 17th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. Only the 24h managed to get a rally today, the markets gapped down and TVGR took effect and prevented the rally from happening on the day session. ES found support so far at the TTT violation recap and recap MA numbers.

Tomorrow is a SS day. We are below the Buy day low and have great odds of at least getting back above these lows before the close tomorrow,

Wednesday February 18th, 2009

Today was a SS day. Markets failed to make a Positive 3 Day rally.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. Unless we have a delayed rally to the 3 day rally, we should get a decline. YM is testing November Lows and could drag the others down with it, if we don't get a bounce.

Thursday February 19th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Today was a good example of a Taylor day. We tested the highs, failed only to go test the lows.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. Having closed near the lows today, we still have a 57% chance of making lower lows, before attempting the normally expected rally.

Friday February 20th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. The gap down open below the Buy day low gave 2 chances to take longs, one at the open and the second midday since the 1st attempt had failed. On ES that second long was at the 88% retracement of the whole move up from November low, and right in between the recap and recap MA lines.

Monday will be a SS day. We are still below the Buy day low, therefore we have good odds of continuing the rally that started today.

Monday February 23th, 2009

Today was a SS day. We ended up with a small positive 3 day rally. Then the markets reversed and reached the TTT Violation projections.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. The average decline is already in place. We should probably test these lows in order to establish the Buy day low.

Tuesday February 24th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Markets went lower at the open just to reverse at the projected lows. Markets then rallied to the previous day highs.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. We have already accomplished most of the average rally. Having closed near the highs of the day we should test these highs tomorrow and possibly breached them

Wednesday February 25th, 2009

Today was a perfect example of a Sell (confusing) day, but the markets managed to make a higher high anyway. On ES 2 short trades were possible at the TTT MA levels and with MTP signals.

Tomorrow is SS day. With the correction of the last hour markets are in the middle of the possible 3 day rally. So at this point it could go either way.

Friday February 27th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Markets opened at the projected lows today and rallied for most of the day. Rally failed at the previous day low and pulled all the way back down to the lows.

Monday will be a Sell day. We normally should get a rally on a sell day and having closed on the lows today, we should probably get a lower low and rally from there.

Monday March 2nd , 2009

Today was a Sell day. We failed to get a Rally on the Day session. This is only the 7th time it has happened in last 14 months. TVGR took effect and prevented the rally.

Tomorrow is a SS day. We still have excellent odds of getting above the Buy day low, in order to get a Positive 3 day Rally.

Thursday March 5th , 2009

Today was a Sell day. We had a good rally on the 24 hour session, due to the level we opened at. However the day session gave us a very shallow one.

Tomorrow is a SS day. The day session Buy day low is at 699 so we should hopefully get above that level at some point during the day tomorrow.

Friday March 6th, 2009

Today was a SS day. All markets managed to get a Positive 3 Day rally on the 24 hour session and some on the Day Session. Markets reversed as ES and YM reached the Buy day low and made new lows.

Monday is a Buy Day. The late day rally made reduced the decline that was in place. So at this point, we could expect a new decline to start on Monday before the Buy day low is reached.

Monday March 9th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Markets opened at the TTT MA average decline, rallied right but failed to get higher, than the overnight high and went to test the overnight lows.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. Having closed near the Buy day low we could get a violation and then the rally should start.

Tuesday March 10th , 2009

Today was a Sell day. We were to expect a rally and with TVGR in effect we ended up with a good one.

Tomorrow is a SS day. We already made more then the average 3 day rally so far, however having closed on the highs of the day, we could have a penetration before we get a shorting opportunity.

Wednesday March 11th, 2009

Today was a SS day. As mentioned in last night's email, we did get a penetration before the shorting opportunity, which came right at the TTT levels on ES.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. The decline started on the SS day should continue before the Buy day low is reached.

Thursday March 12th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. The low was made 1st and markets rallied all day.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. The momentum could continue however we have done more than the average rally. That could make for a confusing day.

Monday March 16th , 2009

Today was a SS day. Markets rallied until the recap MA was reached and then the decline started.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. A good part of the average decline is in and should continue a bit further until the Buy day low is reached.

Tuesday March 17th , 2009

Today was a perfect Buy day. ES tested the 24 hour low and reversed, giving us a real nice rally.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. It is also FOMC day, We did get most of the average rally in already, so tomorrow should be a confusing day especially with FOMC.

Wednesday March 18th , 2009

Today was a Sell day and the results of the FOMC meeting pushed the markets above the normal rally expectation.

Tomorrow is a SS day. We should test today's highs and possibly make a higher high (Penetration) before we start the decline. We also have exceeded the average 3 day rally.

Thursday March 19th , 2009

Today was a SS day. We tested the highs of yesterday and failed to go higher and that made a perfect SS day from the open.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. A good part of the decline is already done. So if we are in a bullish market we may just get a shallow decline, however we can't say that for sure yet.

Friday March 20th , 2009

Today was a Buy day. Bears took charge and pushed the decline further then anticipated but ES found support at the Violations levels.

Monday will be a Sell day. On Sell days we should be looking for a rally from the Buy day low.

Having close on the lows , we may get a violation before the rally can start.

Monday March 23rd, 2009

Today was a Sell day. We needed a rally on a Sell day and we got one. Pullbacks were shallow and TVGR was in effect.

Tomorrow is SS day. The momentum is strong so far and a Penetration of today's highs would not be surprising.

Tuesday March 24th, 2009

Today was a SS day. We tested yesterday's high after lunch and failed to go higher. That was the start of the decline.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. Part of the decline has been accomplished. Depending how bullish the market is, we may continue the decline before the Buy day low is in and the rally begins.

Wednesday March 25th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. After testing the highs a few time the markets reversed and nearly reached the projected Decline and Violation numbers. At that point the Buy day low was in a the rally started.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. A good part of the rally is in so this could end up being one of those confusing Sell days.

Thursday March 26th , 2009

Today was a Sell Day. The rally continued but in a confused fashion.

Tomorrow is SS day. We already have achieved the average 3 day rally so at this point it will all depend on the strength of the upward momentum.

Friday March 27th, 2009

Today was a SS day. We had a gap down at the open and at best ES managed to rally to the Average 3 Day rally Numbers.

Monday is a Buy day. Part of the decline is in but it is pretty small at the moment. I would therefore expect this decline to continue before the Buy day low is established.

Monday March 30th , 2009

Today was a Buy day. We needed a decline and got a bigger one than expected. The markets had gone up very fast in the last few weeks and needed a correction.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. We may be testing the lows before the rally can start. A gap down below the Buy day low should give us a great opportunity to long.

Tuesday March 31st, 2009

Today was a Sell day. We gapped up instead of down and TVGR was in effect. We had a cluster of 3 TTT levels in the 805-806 area which offered good resistance and a nice opportunity to short.

Tomorrow is SS day. So far the 3 day rally is a bit weak so we may have a chance to test today's highs.

Wednesday April 1st, 2009

Today was a SS day. As mentioned last night the 3 day rally was small so we had a good chance to go revisit the highs. Today's highs were right at the TTT levels.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. We should expect a decline on Buy days. Having closed on the highs we may test this high before the decline starts.

Thursday April 2nd, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Looks like the G-20 meeting messed up our decline on the day session. TVGR was in effect and markets rallied most of the day.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. Most of the rally on the 24 Hour session has been accomplished however we still have room to go on the Day session. A test of today's high will be the thing to look for.

Today was a Sell day. It lived up to the confusing day, up down and back up.

Monday will be a SS day. Having closed on the highs, we should test these highs and maybe get a penetration.

Monday April 6th, 2009

Today was a SS day. In this last cycle we have had a big discrepancy between the Day and 24 hour session. The 24 hour had a very small Decline on the Buy day and the Day session didn't even get one. The 24 hour session manage to get an average Positive 3 day rally and a week one on the Day session. So it was somewhat harder to trade this cycle.

Tomorrow is a Buy day. The 24 Hour already has 1/2 the decline in but the Day session barely has one. Hopefully this cycle, we will get back to normal.

Tuesday April 7th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. ES declined to the TTT 24h levels which was also the 50% retracement from the 848 highs. They tested that level a few times today and so far it has held. Tomorrow is a Sell day. We should be getting a rally on Sell days. However the markets are turning bearish with the last 2 days gapping down. So we should be careful with our longs.

Monday April 13th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. The decline was shallow probably due to the holiday and Europe being closed.

Tomorrow will be a Sell day. It is hard to say what effect the holiday will have on the rally since the decline was shallow. I would expect a confusing day.

Wednesday April 15th, 2009

Today was a SS day. We opened below the Buy day Low and quickly got back above to produce a Positive 3 day rally even if it was only by 1 tick. ES had a hard time getting and staying above the BdLow but finally did at the end of the day. This has been a weird cycle as each day looked like a Sell day. Maybe the holiday had something to do with it.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. Having closed on the highs we may get a penetration before the decline starts.

Thursday April 16th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. As mentioned last night, Markets did penetrate the highs. The gap open gave us an opportunity to short however the Decline was shallow. Tomorrow Is a Sell day. Part of the rally is already in place. Having closed near the highs we will probably test these highs tomorrow.

Monday April 20th, 2009

Today was a SS day. It was a difficult trading day as we didn't get many chance to enter short trades and Longs were against the TTT rules and TVGR was in effect all day. Tomorrow will be a Buy Day. Having closed near the lows of the day, we should probably get a violation of the lows before the rally starts. Should we get a gap down at the open tomorrow we will have very high odds of at least getting back above today's lows.

Tuesday April 21st, 2009

Today was a Buy day. We did get the expected violation and the rally started. This was at the 50% retracement and right in the middle of the DP zone.
 Tomorrow will be a Sell day. Having done a good part of the rally we could get one of these confusing days.

Wednesday April 22nd, 2009

Today was a Sell day. It took most of the day to finally reach the goals, only to reverse and lose all the gains in the last hour.

Tomorrow is a SS day. If we gap down lower than the Buy day low, we will have high odds of getting back above that low. We seem to have started wave 1A of 3C down and that should match with TTT, with a possible 2B if we gap lower, followed by an other leg lower.

Thursday April 23rd, 2009

Today was SS Day. This was an odd SS day probably due to the fact the the Positive 3 Day rally was lower then average.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. Having closed on the highs of the day, we could get a Penetration before the decline starts.

Friday April 24th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. Only ES day session failed to get a decline. Missed by not much as they tried a few times.

Monday will be a Sell day. We often correct the failures the next day so we could do that on Monday.

Monday April 27th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. ES did get back to 850 as mentioned in Friday's report. The rest of the day was a typical confusing Sell day. Tomorrow will be a SS day. So far the 3 Day rally is pretty small, so we could go higher before dropping.

Today was a SS day. Having opened below the Buy day Low gave us a nice opportunity to long right at the open.

Tomorrow is a Buy Day. We should anticipate a decline however FOMC may mess things up.

Wednesday April 29th, 2009

Today was a Buy day. As mentioned last night FOMC did mess up the decline that we were expecting, and kept it small.

Tomorrow is a Sell day. This could be one of those confusing days. The average rally should take us higher.

Thursday April 30th, 2009

Today was a Sell day. As expected, we did go higher, reaching the average rally levels before reversing.

Tomorrow is SS day. Based on the average 3 day rally, we should go test today's highs.
